

MASSIVE OPEN ONLINE COURSE
LINKS (MMOCs)

These links will bring you to pages of links to courses offered online from major universities across the world. Not all of the courses offer certificates of completion so you will want to make sure you choose a course that offers a certificate which verifies your attendance and completion of the course. Once you have completed the course you can then submit the certificate of completion to the Academic Dean's office. Courses vary greatly so you will want to choose a course that won't overwhelm you but that you will learn from and that will offer you a certificate, or proof of having taken the course.
